"He is a virtuoso—a first-class musician whose instrument is his remarkable feet!" - The Washington Post

Savion Glover, the two-time Tony Award-winning choreographer and dancer, will perform an exuberant tap extravaganza, SoLe Sanctuary. In this acclaimed and thrilling new production, Glover pays tribute to the great tap dancers of the 20th century, including Sammy Davis Jr. and Gregory Hines, who described Glover as "the greatest tap dancer that ever lived."

THE SAVANNAH DISPUTATION

by Evan Smith

"With seemingly endless side-splitting moments, it may well be the funniest play of the season." - The Boston Metro

The Savannah Disputation is a heaven-sent comedy drenched in southern charm, infused with a pinch of hellfire and a dollop of damnation. Two daffy Catholic sisters find themselves in a verbal smack down with a door-to-door evangelist in their own home. Crackling with wit and brimming with emotion, what unfolds is an up-to-the-minute comedy about organized religion, faith and morals in the not-so-United States.

Hiromi: The Trio Project and Gerald Clayton Trio

Hiromi's first big break came at the age of 17 when a chance meeting with Chick Corea led to a performance with the well-known pianist the very next day. Hiromi: The Trio Project will offer audiences a spectacular performance, led by Japanese-born pianist who has fused jazz, progressive rock, and classical music into a unique personal style. Sharing the bill is Grammy-nominated Gerald Clayton who, despite his young age, has already performed extensively with numerous leading jazz musicians, including Kenny Barron, Roy Hargrove, Lewis Nash, Mulgrew Miller, and Clark Terry, to name several. In 2002, Clayton was recognized as a national YoungArts winner and was named a U.S. Presidential Scholar in the Arts, in addition to receiving a scholarship award from the Music for Youth Foundation
